Knowing and working with Elizabeth (Beth) over the last 12 years has been a pleasure. She demonstrates maturity being an outstanding role model for the students with whom she works. Her dedication, depth of knowledge and enthusiasm as a science subject specialist is infectious and her ability to connect with the students enhances their ability to learn and enriches their learning experience. Whilst working within Hampshire, Beth was well respected for the work she conducted as a Lead Teacher in the Science Team. Unafraid of hard work, Beth perfected her time management skills when she succeeded in fulfilling the requirements of a Masters Degree in Education whilst in full time teaching; no mean feat!

Beth's excellent initiative, presentation and communication skills enable her to lead from the front, so enabling her to develop collaborative teams that work cooperatively. She is capable of handling any situation with thoughtfulness and sensitivity. Her approach is firm, yet caring and fair, always focussing on what is best for the students. She seeks the outright success for her students by her creativity in the preparation of stimulating resources that inspire students at all levels to work towards maximising their achievement. Her happy demeanour, organisational skills, and impressive professionalism are inspirational whilst providing, for each student, opportunities to take responsibility for their learning.

I would unreservedly recommend Beth in a role as a Consultant in the field of Education.
